

6 Renovations for the Ultimate Ensuite

December 7, 2018

Did you know that in an average life span, you will spend over two years in your bathroom? Showering, shaving, makeup, brushing your teeth, doing your hair, and... other things. Many people also use their washroom as a place to sing, dance, read, get dressed, and even watch TV. It is the first room you go to when you wake up, and the last one you visit before you go to sleep. Your bathroom should be comforting, welcoming, and relaxing. And we have some great ideas to make your bathroom the perfect room for you to get ready in.

Mixed Textures

Just like with many other rooms of the house, you want to have more than one colour or texture. If you prefer a bright, white bathroom, think about adding some rich deep, rich colours somewhere. Offset some smooth, hard tile with soft, textured wood. Draw eyes to fixtures by choosing metals that contrast the rest of the bathrooms. The combinations will create a visually appealing room to get ready in every day.

Spa-Like Comfort

This could be different for everyone. Some people like steam showers, some people want the comfiest bathtub available, and some people want a soft, cushiony seat for their vanity. Most people love their heated floors. Your bathroom should be calming and relax you, so whatever you think will bring you the most comfort should be added.

Tub with a View

If your bathroom allows for it, there is something so nice about a big, deep bathtub placed just right so you have a great view of the outdoors. Outside views are incredibly relaxing, so image it, with warm water, a colourful bath bomb, and bubbles up to your chin. You'll never want to leave.

Space! Space! Space!

In the past, bathrooms were designed to be small to make way for other rooms. We disagree. You spend so much time in the bathroom... It needs to be a room where you can move around without stubbing your toe or bumping into your significant other. And you also need room for those impromptu runway walks or solo dance parties.

Tasteful Accents

After you renovate, everyone is going to want to see the final product. If you want to make them jealous of your new ensuite, the tasteful little accents will make a huge difference. Some people like a luxurious looking tile, or beautiful cabinetry. Hang a lovely chandelier above your tub, or have a cool looking sink, like a vessel sink.

Something Special Just for You

Speakers for your music! A small TV so you can watch the news while you get ready in the morning! A perfectly lit vanity so your makeup is always flawless! A fireplace to reach maximum comfort! A towel warmer so you can be cozy after your shower! One of the many luxury shower heads available so you have a perfect shower every time! The ideas are endless. If you want it in your bathroom, we can make that happen!
